

FERREX

Why it's the best!

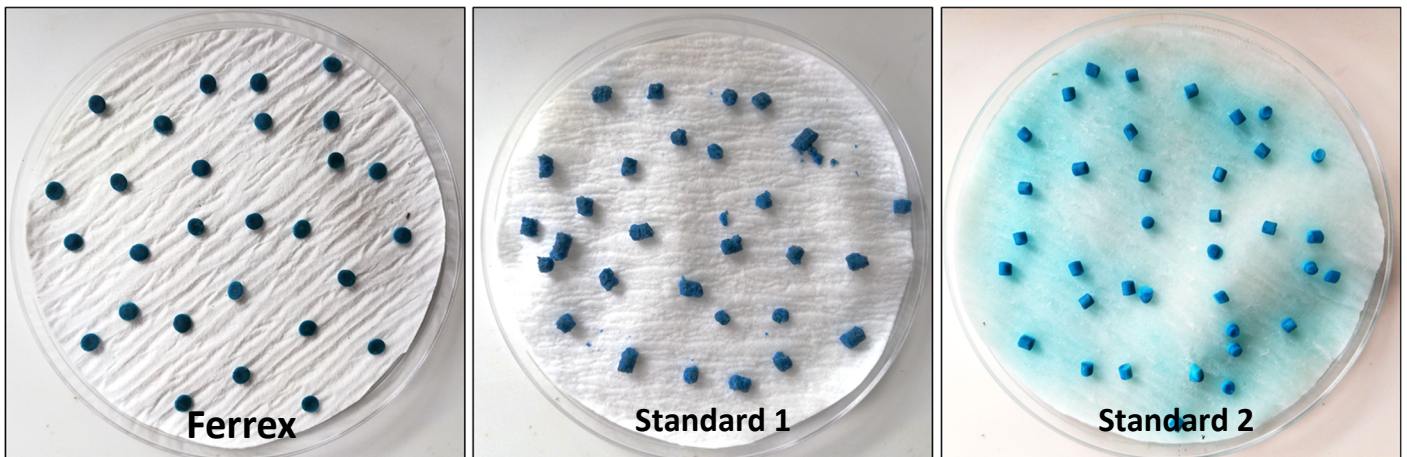

The patented extrusion process gives Ferrex lentils advantages over market standards due to the homogeneous distribution of the lentil ingredients.

 Plant based raw materials + active ingredient spread throughout the lentil ensure rapid uptake of ai even if only a small piece has been consumed

This precision manufacturing process also ensures that Ferrex lentils retain their colour in field improving monitoring accuracy & aiding decision making.

Ferrex retains dye under wet conditions

Ferrex lentils vs. slug pellets standards under 24 hours simulated wet (rainfall) conditions
